

Operation Cease Fire
Winner 1997
Innovations in American Government Award

- Cox, Mike. "New Policies Could Ease Epidemic of Violence." Editorial. The Detroit News 28 July 2004.
- Pompilio, Natalie. "A Strategy that Chills Homicides; Phila. to Consider Model That Makes a Gang Pay for a Member's Crime." The Philadelphia Inquirer 7 May 2004.
- Burkeman Oliver. "The Guardian Profile – Paul Evans as the City's Police Commissioner..." The Guardian [London, UK] 12 Sept. 2003.
- Ellement, John. "Think Tank Praises Boston's Police." The Boston Globe 17 May 2001.
- Radin, Charles A. "Activists Revisit Gang Strategy Some See Complacency As Youth Violence Increases in Boston." The Boston Globe 5 Sept. 2000.
- Milligan, Susan. "Gun Issues Defy Easy Fix, Insist Scholars March Seen As Failing to Address Root Cause." The Boston Globe 14 May 2000.
- Silberman, Ellen J. "President Unveils Anti-Gun Initiative." The Boston Herald 19 Jan. 2000.
- Radin, Charles A. "Boston Is Model City for Clinton's Plans Housing Tour, Talk with Street Workers on Agenda of Visit to Tout Anticrime Ideas." The Boston Globe 18 Jan. 2000.
- Farmer, Tom. "Cease Fire Program Earns Kudos for Hub Cops." The Boston Herald 20 Dec. 1999.
- Kaplan, Fred. "Brooklyn Adopts 'Boston Plan' on Slaying." The Boston Globe 14 Oct. 1999.
- Radin, Charles A. "City Mobilizes to Stem Gangs' Lure." The Boston Globe 27 Mar. 1998.
- Grunwald, Michael. "Nap Town Wakes Up to Homicide." The Boston Globe 4 Jan. 1998.
- "Police Awarded For Cease-Fire Plan." The Boston Globe 10 Oct. 1997.
- Grunwald, Michael. "Looking to Boston for Homicide Solutions, Best by Violent Street Crime, Minneapolis Copies an Intervention Plan." The Boston Globe 3 Aug. 1997.